Beveridge Headed For Texas.

The Honorable All Jaw Beveridge, United States Senator from Indiana, prince of oratorical "high binders," and "a would-be Presidential Possibility," has signified his gratification at an opportunity to inflict a punishment on the citizenship of Texas in promising to execute death-dealing blows to the Democracy of the Fifteenth Congressional District in the advocacy of the candidacy of Mr. Scott, the Republican nominee.

He confidently expects to land a most effective blow on Candidate Garner's political solar plexus, and literally sweep that gentleman from the arena of official possibilities by his mighty intellectual strength and wonderful hypnotic power.

Oh, but Beveridge is a towering specimen of a liberal combination of gaff and gall—a wonderful illustration of unlimited "little-ness," long since "gone to seed." He forcibly reminds one of a shadow without substance, and instantly inspires a respect for helpless and hopeless humanity. Born with lungs capable of great expansion, nursed in the lap of a limitless vocabulary and fed from the spoon of polished rhetoric, he came forth imbued with a wisdom of words and a lavish desire to impress his preeminence and provoke the popular applause. He is the great intellectual "I am," possessed with a permanent desire to parade the "first person, singular number"—the extent of his grammatical conception—and earnest in the advocacy of his political proficiency and prominent personality. But, notwithstanding his eminent fitness to expostulate great expressions, he sometimes gets "choked" and his voluminous vocabulary immediately vanishes. Texas is just now in need of something politically "strenuous," and it will devolve upon this prominent personage to make the provision, for which, we need but to arrange for our own boy Bailey's entry into this contest for political supremacy, if perchance, a few joint discussions can be provided.

Mr. Morgan is being dined and feted in London.—Gonzales Inquirer.

Acquiring a "monopoly" on British hospitality, looking to the organization of a great "steal trust," Edward had better guard well the British crowd, or Morgan may develop a "controlling interest."

...STOCK NEWS...

Predicts Good Movement.

Fred McKenzie remarked Saturday evening that he had received information that Coke county had not received as much rainfall as here, but the people down there were satisfied and believed they had enough. Speaking of the outlook generally, Mr. McKenzie said he looked for an active movement in cattle. The big corn crop demanded a large number of feeders, and the local demand also promised to be good. All that is necessary is for some man to start the ball rolling by making a good sized trade, and business would at once become lively all along the line.—Colorado Stockman.

R. W. Hoskins predicts a hard winter for the ensuing one. Says when the mesquite trees have a heavy foliage that it is invariably a sure sign that a severe winter will follow, and it is a fact that this timber has the heaviest foliage this year that it has had in many years. Don't Like the Promised Land.

Dan Cryer, who managed the J. F. Collins & Sons ranch last year, returned from a prospecting trip through New Mexico and Arizona and was in Sonora Tuesday. Mr. Cryer did not like the country and was glad to be able to get back to Texas. He was looking through the country during the months of April, May and June, and must have seen it at its worst—at least from his description the poorest country you ever heard of was better than the state of Montezuma. He says it's a pretty country to look at and the tall waving grasses would make a mesquite country man think he had found the promised land.

Mr. Cryer says the appearances are deceptive; that cattle, sheep and even goats do not do well and in many places are dying and that the small ranchmen are now feeding their cattle on rolled barley at $1.75 per hundred pounds and are generally obliged to feed four months in the year. He says the big stockmen do not seem to care about cattle dying and make no preparations to feed. Horses keep in pretty good condition if not worked and the burro does better than any other kind of stock. He says men can get employment in the mines and on the railroads at good wages but the cowboy is only employed for two months in the year at $50 per month, unless he happens to get in with some big outfit. He says Douglas is on a boom because of the erection of two large smelters that expect to do the smelting for some large mines in old Mexico.

Mr. Cryer says if any one in Texas wants to move to New Mexico or Arizona and has the moving fever very bad he would advise them to make the trip in the fall, as the country is then at its best and certainly looks fine.—Devils River News.

YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Columbia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Uter, a prominent physician of Panama, Columbia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady, sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet, and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by The Central Drug Store.

Concho county, with the exception of a few small spots, is gloriously wet again. Monday night a heavy cloud formed in the west, and it seemed as though the heavens opened and the rain came in torrents, about ten o'clock until about four o'clock in the morning. Making about a three inch rainfall in Paint Rock. In the Loomis pasture, and on Kickapoo above the Ostrander house a water spout must have fallen, as that creek was higher than it was ever known before, and Mr. Loomis says an eight inch rainfall at his ranch house, and that Lipan creek resembled the Mississippi river. The water mostly from these creeks made a twenty-five foot rise in the river here Tuesday morning, washing fences and trees down in its path, and also "redamaged" the dam and washed the water wheel to pieces again.All arrangements are now complete for the re-union of the Colorado Concho association of Confederate Veterans which will be held Aug. 6th and 7th, on the Concho river three miles East of San Angelo. Arrangements have been made for plenty on the north side of the river front and back as far as needed. There will be speaking and music and everything will be done to give a good time. All are invited, especially all old soldiers and their families to come and bear their own expenses. San Angelo is close enough for those that wish to stop in town.—The Concho Herald.

A Cure for Cholera Infantum

"Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker, of Bookwalter, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbors was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered and is now (nearly a year since) a vigorous healthy girl. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance." For sale by The Central Drug Store.
